Identify Your Barrel Ramp

The purpose of this document is to help you identify differences in ramp styles to properly select the correct barrel for your gun. The two types of barrels are Ramped and Unramped. The Unramped barrel is only offered in the 45 ACP since the Unramped barrel does not have as much support as the ramped versions. The ramped versions are offered in 9MM, 38 Super, 40 S&W, 10MM and in 45 ACP as well. There is detailed background information on the ramps in the document Ramped and Unramped Barrels.

The Unramped barrel does not have a feed ramp, the feed ramp is integral to the frame:

The Clark/Para/Lissner Ramp has a rounded lower lug and an integral feed ramp:

The Wilson/Nowlin Ramp has a flat lower lug and an integral feed ramp:
